

DATA WAREHOUSING

The Flexx Data Warehousing module ensures that you will no longer have to sacrifice your historical data to maintain an acceptable performance level. Strategically partitioned into on-line and warehouse components, Flexx automatically migrates inactive data to its warehouse. With Data Warehousing, switching between current and historical views is easily accomplished with the touch of an option button. By keeping all data accessible, Flexx becomes a powerful strategic tool for trend analysis and management decision making.
